Capax Global Announces a Microsoft-Focused, Interactive Workshop Series for Fall 2010 to Visit Major Cities in the MidWest, West and Eastern Regions

Attend the Microsoft-Sponsored Workshop Series; Map an Innovative IT Course to Your Business Success

Capax Global – Parsipanny, NJ – Aug 31, 2010

Workshop Description

Attend this Capax Global workshop and participate in hands-on, “out of the box” problem-solving for re-thinking the use of technology to solve your most pressing business challenges. This workshop includes hands-on exercises, and facilitator-led business process analysis designed to align technology with your business success.

News Facts

- Capax Global announces an in-person Microsoft solutions workshop road show, with sessions focused on business intelligence (BI), line of business (LOB) and collaboration solutions built on SQL, Sharepoint and Microsoft Dynamics.
- This workshop will help participants to develop their own project roadmaps for their organizations, suitable to share with corporate business and IT communities.
- This seminar series will start in Fall 2010 and run through Spring 2011.
- These seminars are suitable for IT decision-makers and influencers.

Supporting Quotes

- Jerry Hawk, Capax Senior Partner and CTO
“Microsoft collaboration technologies, including Dynamics CRM and SharePoint, are powerful tools supporting automated workflow and improved decision-making within complex, multi-tiered organizations. At Capax, we specialize in helping IT better align to support business by getting well beyond the basics in the use of these technologies. We look forward to assisting workshop participants by sharing our best practices developed from over a decade of working with organizations in these industries.”
- Chris Keslin, AP at Capax Global
"Over the past 10 years, I've watched Microsoft's vision to create a common business platform which enables IT groups to retain and repurpose their top talent with deep business domain knowledge throughout the technology landscape. Microsoft Dynamics and SharePoint 2010 continue to deliver on that promise, and I am excited to work with teams at this workshop series so that we can customize these solutions for their businesses."
